To whom it may concern,

Firstly, I would like to say thank you for the support you have given me over this academic year. As a SENCO new to the post, you have developed my understanding and confidence in a few areas including improving SEN folders, creating effective workstations for a range of abilities and showing me other interventions, which I may want to include in the future.

Secondly, I feel I have learnt greatly from the experiences of visiting your school and working collaboratively in my school. I have felt supported when looking at dealing with particular unwanted behaviours from children in a more holistic way. Two of these are 'class conferences' and 'circle of friends'. The modelling of these sessions are excellent and this strategy really helped me understand how to deliver these strategies more effectively. Also, from the evaluations the children and staff have completed, it clearly showed they felt the same way. These new strategies are going to be duplicated by myself and the Learning Behaviour Mentors in the future.

Finally, having someone available to support me in my role has been invaluable in my development professionally, so thank you.

Yours sincerely

Mr Brooks-Smith
